Description

The 2024 Toyota Prius Excel, a petrol plug-in hybrid car, combines efficiency with a suite of modern features. This vehicle, with its 2.0-litre engine and Euro 6 emission class, comes in the Excel trim and has had only one owner. It includes heated seats for both the driver and passenger, ensuring comfort during colder journeys. Wireless smartphone integration, including Apple CarPlay, allows for seamless connectivity. Safety is enhanced with blind spot monitoring and safe exit assist. Bluetooth connectivity and smart entry with push-button start add to the convenience of this well-equipped car. The Prius Excel distinguishes itself with its impressive acceleration, reaching 0-62mph in just 6.8 seconds. This quick acceleration sets it apart from other vehicles in its
